Advances in Theoretical and Mathematical Physics

When physics students first learn about Newton's law and momentum, they get the impression that it's all about mass. If that's true, how can massless light have momentum? It's because mass isn't ...

Momentum does NOT require Mass!!

I have been watching his videos for past almost 1 year. I think by far its been my best decision. He just explains the most complex things in just a sentence. Most other videos focus too much on sensationalizing. But he is spot on from science poi...

How credible is Nick Lucid, of YouTube's "The Science Asylum"?

A lot of optical illusions can be explained by Fermat's principle of least time, but why does light obey it? On a fundamental level, it all comes down to quantum mechanics, specifically quantum ...

Why Does Light REALLY Bend?

I've had a few requests for longer videos. Unless I change the format, this is what it would be like if I made 10 minute videos. Any constructive feedback is appreciated :-). If you prefer ...
