The probabilities and payoffs have to be listed for the base game, every feature and every bonus round. If a payoff or probability changes with denomination or bet per line, that has to be described on the PAR sheet too. Calling the collection of information about how a slot game pays its players a sheet has always underplayed the size of the document. Even back in the '90s, the PAR sheet was always four to six pages long.

Randomness is shown on PAR sheets. When a manufacturer makes a slot, the first thing they do is create a PAR sheet. It's a list of the symbols for each reel, and the payable for the winning combinations. From that, anyone with halfway-decent math skills should be able to calculate the payback for a simple slot without bonus rounds.
